

This unique festival originated from when the starving townspeople were freed from an evil baron.

Over the years it has become into an orange throwing battle.

