

Costanza Riva, scholar and researcher, was born in Florence where she lives and works his studies.

For years he has dedicated himself to the rediscovery of the Ancient Traditions to which he supports knowledge of symbolism and mythology.

Her deep interest in the Hermetic Doctrine led her to outline it a new symbolic reading of monuments, parks and gardens.

She is also the author of numerous essays and articles on the history of the city of Florence.

She has written and published the following books:

Antichi Saponi (in collaborazione, 2009), Boboli il giardino alchemico (2010), La Grotta Grande di Boboli, laboratorio di meraviglie (2011), Pratolino, il sogno alchemico di Francesco I de' Medici- miti, simboli e allegorie (2013), La Cavalcata dei Magi di Benozzo Gozzoli-storia, ermetismo e antiche simbologie (2016), Bianca Cappello e Francesco I de' Medici, amore eterno e segrete alchimie (2018), Il Palazzo di Bianca Cappello a Firenze, simboli, miti e alchemiche allegorie (2018).